TWO LOSE LIVES IN FIRE

BRAVE POLICEMAN SAVES GIRL'S LIFE

Rushes Into the Flames and Carries Out Helpless Young Woman

As the result of a disastrous fire, whipped into fury by the inflammable material which fed it in the rear wing of a Chinese lodging house at 362 Fifth street at 4:20 o'clock this morning, two lives were snuffed out, and three other were fatally burned, three other Chinese were painfully injured while escaping from the flames and a Chinese girl was saved from cremation by the bravery and heroism displayed by Police Daniel Curran.

Meou Fong, who was fatally injured in the fire, died this afternoon at the Receiving Hospital. Fong was a porter in Kouch's saloon at East Twelfth street and Thirteenth avenue.

It was due to this patrolman's activity and devotion to duty that the death toll was not larger and more property destroyed. It was he who detected that a fire alarm bell had rung and a few moments later he plunged into the midst of smoke and flames and rescued the Chinese girl whose clothes were ablaze. Her identity has not been made known, she having been moved to the home of friends after she had been carried from the jaws of death.

Policeman Ran Through Flames

In carrying out this meritorious act, Curran, who is now in a fair way to receive from the Police Commissioners a medal for bravery, was overcome by smoke, his hair was singed, his helmet was lost in the fire and his coat was scorched by the heat of the flames.

The scene of the fire at the early this morning, was formerly a stable in the rear of the house owned and occupied as a home in early days by Peter Baker and family. This historical residence has been connected with the stable within the past few years by the Chinese who had turned the property into a lodging house, the building being owned and up for sale.

SCENE OF THE FIRE WHICH COST TWO LIVES EARLY THIS MORNING. POLICEMAN DAN CURRAN, WHO PROVIDED THE HERO OF THE OCCASION, AND TWO OF THE VICTIMS.

Biggy Will File Charges

Against Captain Duke, Sergeant Burke and Robl

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—The result of the inquest held over the suicide of Morris Haas, bringing about a verdict which soundly rapped the local police department, has engendered an element of internal strife and indications point to a war within the department.

Chief of Police Biggy this morning expressed his intention of filing charges against Captain of Police Duke, Detective Sergeant Burke and Policeman Robl for failing to find the derring which was concealed on the person of Heney's assailant, and not properly searching him.

He holds his subordinates entirely responsible for the neglect of duty which the coroner's jury has ascribed to the department and intends pressing the matter to the fullest extent.

when his men are placed upon the carpet.

Captain of Police Duke, the senior officer concerned, is inclined to the theory that the chief has stirred up a hornet's nest and that his charges will inevitably revert upon himself. The captain says that Biggy assumed charge of the prisoner after leaving Carpenter's Hall and that it was his duty to order a further search, which should have gone even to the undressing of the would-be assassin after he was taken to the county jail.

Five on Carpet

There are now five men who will have to face the commissioners as the result of the Haas suicide. Policemen Attridge and Kelly have already been accused by Detective William J. Burns as the result of the latter's investigations into the guarding of the prisoner at the county jail.

Mrs. Belle Guinness Alive In Kansas City, Is Report

PORTER, Ind., Nov. 24.—Mayor Darrow received a telegram today from Ella Hennig, 3937 Terrace avenue, Kansas City, stating that Mrs. Belle Guinness is now in Kansas City, Kan. When the trial of Ray Lamphero, charged with murdering Mrs. Guinness, was resumed this afternoon Dr. Walter Haines was called to the stand to give evidence of the finding of strychnine and arsenic in the stomachs of Mrs. Guinness and two of her children.

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 24.—Neither the police of Kansas City, Missouri, nor Kansas City, Kans., are of the opinion that Mrs. Belle Guinness is in this part of the country. The "Ella Hennig" referred to in the Lamphero dispatch is an elderly domestic, whose real name is Mrs. Nollie Ledford.

Foraker Will Fight C. P. Taft
For the Toga

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 24.—Senator J. B. Foraker today had a long conference with Governor Harris. The politicians all say that the question of the senator's successor in the United States Senate was discussed and never that Mr. Foraker will try to beat Editor Charles P. Taft with Governor Harris in case Foraker falls of the nomination.

S. P. Will List $74,863,000 Of Common Stock on the New York Stock Exchange

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The Southern Pacific Company today applied to the New York Stock Exchange for permission to list additional common stock amounting to $74,863,000. On announcement of this, Harriman stocks became very strong and were a feature during the early session. It was understood that the operation is in the nature of a legal formality, by which the company may be in a position to exchange shares for the preferred.

The preferred stock pays seven per cent annually and according to the charter of the company, may be retired at the discretion of the company at $115 for every $100 share at any time before July 1, 1911. It sold this morning in the neighborhood of 121. Southern Pacific common stock receives six per cent dividend. When application to list was made it was selling at $117 1/4. It later ran up to $118 1/4.

Meetings of the directors of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific railway companies were held today. Both were said to be of a routine character.

A representative of the Southern Pacific board said, that the application to list the additional stock was without significance aside from the fact that some of the preferred shareholders were availing themselves of the conversion plan.

SUPT. JOHN BARNETT BADLY HURT BY CAR

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—John Barnett, superintendent of public buildings, was seriously injured at 2:15 this afternoon through being knocked down by a McAllister street car directly in front of the Board of Public Works building at City Hall avenue and Leavenworth street.

The injured man was removed at once to the Central Emergency Hospital, where it was found his right thigh had been broken and he had sustained a lacerated wound of the scalp and a bad wound over the eye. Barnett has been in the service of the city for a number of years, having held the same position during the Phelan administration. He is about 65 years of age.

BAD REPORTS FROM HOSPITAL ABOUT MR. HENEY

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—It is reported from the Lane Hospital that Francis J. Heney is not quite so well today, owing to the effect on his kidneys of the anesthetic used when the bullet fired by Morris Haas was extracted from his jaw. His temperature is slightly above the normal, but no alarm is felt and his speedy improvement is expected.

Woman Thrown Off Car; Seriously Ill

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—In spite of the fact that she told Conductor Frank Curley that she was in a delicate condition and just out of the hospital, Mrs. Elizabeth Max was thrown off a car at Sixteenth and Mission streets last night and now lies in a dangerous condition at her home, 1117 Geary street.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER OF HUSBAND

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 24.—Mrs. Georgianna Sampson of Polymra, widow of Harry Sampson, nephew of the late Admiral Sampson, was arrested today, charged with the murder of her husband, whose death was at first said to be suicide.

HELD BY THE POLICE Arrested in Northern Lumber Camp Where He Was Working.

Chief of Police Wilson is in receipt of a telegram from the officials at Seattle to the effect that a man presumed to be Frank Smith who cowardly murdered John Marcovitch in the Gas Kitchen by shooting him in the back on the night of April 19, 1906, is in custody in a mining camp in the far northern section of the State of Washington. The local officials are awaiting with anxiety a photograph which has been forwarded to Chief Wilson for the purposes of identification.

The telegram which has set the local police by the ears merely recites the fact that a man closely answering the description of Smith as sent out from the local police headquarters was under arrest and the question was asked whether the scars on his limbs and body were prominent, the scars referred to having been mentioned in the descriptive circular of the murderer. There was no picture of Smith in existence so far as could be determined. Because of this the police in search of Smith have been forced to rely merely on a worded description of the much wanted man.

FEAR FOR RELIEF'S SAFETY

NAVY HOSPITAL SHIP IS LONG PAST DUE
Should Have Reached Guam
Last Friday—Many Heavy Storms Excite the Fears of Manila Officials.

MANILA, Nov. 24.—Some concern is felt here for the safety of the navy hospital ship Relief, which is attached to the Atlantic battleship fleet which sailed on November 16 for Guam but has not arrived as yet at her destination although due there last Friday. Severe storms followed the sailing of the Relief and it is feared that the vessel has been caught in them and sustained damage if nothing worse. The vessel intended to land two members of the cable staff at Guam. The supply ship has been ordered to leave Guam in search of the missing ship.

Buffeted by Seas

During the voyage of the Atlantic fleet to the Orient the Relief was buffeted by the heavy seas encountered between Samoa and Auckland and again between Auckland and Sydney. At times she rolled so badly that it was feared she would overturn. As a result of this Admiral Sperry ordered the ship to proceed from Sydney to Manila direct instead of following the course taken by the fleet.

Three vessels of the China-Manda trade are reported as overdue here and it is believed that they were caught in the recent typhoon and forced to run for shelter to points of the coast of China.

METCALF NOT TO BE BANK PRESIDENT

The different reports that Secretary of the Navy Metcalf intended to accept the presidency of the First National Bank of this city, upon his retirement from President Roosevelt's cabinet, are without foundation. He will engage in the practice of law in Oakland.

It had been the intention of Mr. Metcalf when he left public life to form a partnership with Everett J. Brown in this city. The recent election of Mr. Brown to the bench upset that plan.

San Diego Wants Fleet Kept Here On Pacific Coast

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 24.—City Clerk Butler today wired to President Roosevelt a set of resolutions adopted last evening by the City Council calling the attention of the chief executive to the disturbed conditions and political situation on the other side of the Pacific and asking him to seriously consider the advisability of leaving the American battleship fleet in Pacific waters.

MUST SERVE FOR LIFE.

CLEAR UP THE MYSTERY OF GIRL

Los Angeles Victim of Train Accident Was Shop Girl Living in That City.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 24.—The body of the young woman who was run over and killed by a Southern Pacific train at Shorb station between here and Pasadena last Saturday night was identified today as that of Miss Louise Engberg, of 3468 Laurel street, Los Angeles. The identification was made by the girl's mother, Mrs. T. Engberg. "The girl's death I believe to have been due to an accident. I am thankful she was run down by a Southern Pacific train."

The girl who formerly worked in a local department store, had been in ill health for some time and had been accustomed to taking long car rides in the country daily and walking back to the city. It is believed she was run down by the train while returning to the city Saturday evening. The coroner's inquest is being held this afternoon at Alhambra.

SYMPATHY BY BOTH SIDES

DEFENDANT'S WIFE IN COURT WITH HER BABE

Prosecution and Defense in John Rea Murder Case Attempt to Win Jury by Appealing to Sentiment.

Sympathy will be played by both the prosecution and the defense in the John Rea murder trial now on before a jury in Superior Judge Ogden's court.

Mrs. Rea, wife of the defendant, has been in court for the past two days holding her tiny baby and occasionally sobbing when some vital part of the testimony fastens the guilt to her accused husband.

The jury has taken a keen interest in the mother, a sad child sitting beside the defendant, so it has been decided by the prosecution to have the sympathies of the twelve peers directed towards the mother.

Deputy District Attorney W. H. Satterwhite, who with Phil M. Carey is prosecuting Rea, announced this morning that Mr. Moller, mother of Carl Moller, the murdered boy, had been brought to court and asked to sit inside of the railing near the side of the prosecution.

Defense Gains Point

Satterwhite declares that Mrs. Moller has aged twenty years since her boy was shot on the Alameda street in September. Mrs. Moller has become gray-haired with grief, it is stated. This the prosecution claims will appeal to as much sympathy as he part of the jury as the young mother and babe.

Attorney R. Porter Ash of the defense succeeded in bringing out one point in Rea's favor this morning when he had Andrew Anderson on cross examination. Anderson was somewhat confused in his testimony, but stated to the attorney that when he and Moller and Maurice Silva were in the marsh at the time the shots were fired from the Alameda Club, he could not see anybody else on the marsh. The point is being made by the defense that Rea did not see the boys when he shot at them.

Anderson told a straightforward story of the shooting. To Chief Deputy District Attorney Phil M. Carey on direct examination he said that the three young fellows were on the left bank of the Alameda river. They were out from the bank a short distance when Moller cried out:

I am shot!

Anderson testified that Moller was not more than two feet from him at the time the shot entered his left arm and he sank to the bottom of the boat. He next told about taking the boy ashore and calling Dr. L. S. Anderson and later of having Moller removed to San Jose where he died.

The witness said that while he did not see the Alameda Club house on that day he did at another time and could see three persons standing about the cabin. Anderson denied that he or his young companions had fired any shots on that day. He said they were merely looking at the boat to have ready when the duck season opened. He said that Moller had been shot in that vicinity the year before and consequently knew it to be a good preserve. He said he did not know if he was in the presence of the Alameda Club.

Maurice Silva, another member of the party, testified this afternoon to about the same matters as did Anderson.

Governor Cummins Made U. S. Senator

DES MOINES, Nov. 24.—Governor A. B. Cummins today was elected by the Iowa legislature United States Senator to succeed the late William B. Allison. The vote stood Cummings 106, Porter (D) 9. Three Republicans did not vote. Cummings' reelection to the six year term next January is assured. Lieutenant Governor Harst was inaugurated as Governor of Iowa at a joint session of the House and the Senate this afternoon.

Portland Woman Shoots Burglar

PORTLAND Ore. Nov. 24.—Mrs. J. F. Kimball, who resides at 4444 Mississippi avenue, telephoned to the police shortly after 2 o'clock this morning that she had shot a burglar who was effecting an entrance to her home. The woman expressed the belief that she hit the fellow, as she heard him scream as if in pain.

SWEDISH POETESS STERNLY REBUKED BY THE COURT IN THE MARTIN TRIAL TODAY

MRS. MARTIN WEEPS IN COURT

Insisted She Believed 'Baby' John Was Guilty of Blowing Up Ogden Home, but That Mrs. Martin Was Innocent.

In the Martin case this morning the cross-examination of Mrs. Andrew Lindell was resumed by Assistant District Attorney Hyman.

"Isn't it a fact that John Martin was always hungry because Mrs. Martin did not give him enough to eat?" asked Hyman.

"No," was the answer. "He was fed as well as he ought to be fed. He had the appetite of two persons. He would eat all the time. Experienced physicians say it is impossible to feed children every time they ask for food."

The witness was then asked if she had studied medicine and replied with a shrug of the shoulders and an upward toss of the head that she had not.

She continued to talk against the prosecution's case that physicians hold that too much food made babies out of children. She herself had no children.

She admitted, however, John's calling for food a number of times a day and that like that of other children who ran into the house and asked for bread and butter and bread and molasses and got it.

Appetite of a Wolf

"But," continued the witness, "she should not have given him all he wanted. John had the appetite of a wolf."

"You don't believe Mrs. Martin helped him at all?" asked Hyman.

"No," she answered. "I don't believe she helped him at all."

"You believe that he sought the dynamite for himself?" asked Hyman.

"Yes," she answered. "I believe he sought it for himself."

"You don't like John?" asked Hyman.

"How could I like a creature of ten years of age who would attempt to take the life of a human being?" was the reply.

"You would like to see John in San Quentin?" asked Hyman.

"I don't care whether I should see him in the White House or in San Quentin," she answered.

The assistant district attorney then brought up the question of the finding of quicksilver in the water dipper at the Alameda Club. The witness said that John had placed there for the purpose of poisoning her. Again she wandered off into lengthy explanations and answers to the questions of counsel which could be answered by yes or no.

The witness started out again to explain and Hyman allowed her full swing and when she had concluded she had delivered herself as follows:

"I don't know what I should have said. I don't know what I should have said. I don't know what I should have said."

"You don't know what I should have said?" asked Hyman.

"I don't know what I should have said," she answered.

EDNA CLARK WRITES AGAIN

ANOTHER LETTER IS SENT TO HER MOTHER

Girls Says She Is Well and Still Working in Chicago.—Mrs. Mack Declares Note Is Unnatural.

ALABAMA, Nov. 24.—Another letter from Edna Clark was received at St. Louis, Mo., today. The letter, written by Mrs. Mack, mother of the girl, states that she is well and working and that she expects to remain in Chicago for a time at least. It is not known whether the letter is genuine or not, but it is believed to be a hoax.

Mrs. Mack said that the letter hardly seemed natural, though it was in keeping with the girl's usual habits. She said that she had not heard from Edna for some time and that she was not sure of the letter's authenticity.

The letter was dated Nov. 23 and was addressed to Mrs. Mack at her home in St. Louis. It was signed 'Edna' and was written in a cursive hand.

ONE DEAD IN FIRE

by Dr. Percy D. Gaskill. The fire was confined to the rear wing of the building, it being gutted. The damage is estimated to be $2500, covered by insurance.

Caught in Trap, by Fire

It was just at 4:20 o'clock this morning that the smoke was seen issuing from the rear of the building. Policeman Curran called Special Policeman Jones to his assistance and Jones turned in the alarm. He then returned to the scene of the fire and the house and was overcome by the smoke. He fell with a thud to the floor, his head striking the wall. He soon partially revived and with his feeble strength made his way to a window and dropped outside of the building.

Clothes of Girl on Fire

While Chief Bell was directing his firefighters he stumbled over 50's prostrate form and had the Chinese removed to the hospital. It is presumed that the girl who was rescued by Curran is 50's daughter, she having been asleep in an adjoining room.

When the policemen found her her night clothing and bed clothes were ablaze. Curran promptly removed his coat, smothered the girl's blazing clothing with his own garment and picking her up in his arms started for the street through fire and smoke. His lungs were choked and his head reeled from his exertions, but he bravely stuck to his post. He finally staggered into the fresh air with his unconscious burden, and then fell in a semi-conscious condition to the street. He soon roused himself, and made his way to his home at 431 Forty-eighth street without assistance. His face is blistered and his hair and eyebrows were singed from his head. It is thought that his condition is not serious and that he will be ready for duty in a day or two.

Panic Reigns Among Chinese

During the course of the fire pandemonium reigned in the Chinatown district. Those in the burning building and adjoining houses ran into the street as fast as they could be rescued, jabbering unintelligible noises in their strange tongue. Leou Fong, a porter who was in the lodging house, was in a heavy sleep and was fatally burned. He was taken to the hospital in a dying condition. Hardly a spot on his body was untouched by flames. In making his escape from the building Wong Jung Sing jumped through a window and was gallantly caught on the hands and back. Jung Sing Hse, a Chinese merchant, was terribly burned about the face, neck and hands.

The injured Chinese were attended by Dr. A. C. Smith and Steward Harry Borchert at the Receiving Hospital.

Splendid New Store Opened

Bowman Company Entertains Thousands of Friends at Opening

Oakland can well be proud of the splendid new store that the Bowman Drug Company has just completed at the corner of Thirteenth and Broadway. The past few months there have been numerous improvements in stores at upper Broadway, and not least among these are the Bowman interests at their main store.

The most pleasing effects are produced in the architectural designs in the interior finishings. By the acquisition of the large store just north of the old location, a combined store makes this the most extensive drug store on the Pacific Coast. The floor space is even much greater than that of many large New York and Chicago stores.

The splendid window frontage on Thirteenth, as well as that on Broadway, give the firm an excellent opportunity to display goods. Thousands of Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda county people gave demonstration of their appreciation of the efforts made by the Bowman Company to give Oakland a first-class store by attending the formal opening last Saturday night. A splendid orchestra was secured for the event and everyone was made to feel at home.

The store is beautiful in its symmetry and the arrangement is the result of the most careful study to serve their customers quickly and conveniently. It is provided with an electrically operated pneumatic tube cash system, the most rapid system for handling cash that has yet been put into operation.

The prescription department has been greatly enlarged, too, and this important department is equipped with every possible convenience for the securing of the filling of prescriptions in the handling of which Bowman & Company have already come to have a name for excellence, second to none in the whole country.

The Comfort of a Warm Fur Piece

cannot be found in anything else. It stands to reason that as the skins of animals are all designed to protect from the severest of weather, that they are equally capable of serving the same purpose for human beings.

Our fur display is full of surprises. You look at the different fur neck pieces and muffs and mentally size up their values only to find that the price tags call for a much smaller figure. It isn't that the quality is not high, but our margin of profit is surprisingly low.

The neck pieces include stoles, boas, neat capes with high collars, four-in-hands and throws in every kind of peit that fashion says is right for this season's wearing.

Prices are, $3.50, $4.25, $5.00 and up to $125

Neckwear for Tasty Women

The finishing touch to the Fall and Winter costume should be a dainty one.

There is nothing more disappointing than having to choose neckwear from a meager assortment, for the neckwear that becomes one woman may not be at all appropriate for another.

So here is a wonderful comprehensive showing—more than mind can fancy or than we can accurately describe.

A wonderful variety of stock collars, fluffy creations in chiffon and lace, tailored stocks, hand-embroidered and in infinite variety in other kinds in many styles and all colors—

25c, 35c, 50c and to $4.00

Messaline Waists elaborately trimmed with new laces, with newest sleeves; in white, pink and blue—

$6.25, $7.25 and to $19.50

At $6.50—Elaborate waist of Messaline Silk with entire yoke of lace and large madallion; collar and sleeves trimmed with lace bands and very neatly tucked; a great value—very dressy for the Thanksgiving celebration.

Corsets of Advanced Style

Corsets may be made of the most expensive material and may be priced very high, but if they are not molded in accordance with fashion's order, they are a failure.

We have corsets of all grades, but we only have one grade of fitting—perfection.

Your individual need may be perhaps best met by a "Kabo," a "Helene," a "Thompson Glove-Fitting," or a "Quality" Corset, and if so we can supply it. What we want to impress on you is this: That our Corset Department is full of such carefully selected models and is under such capable and efficient management that we can insure you obtaining that perfection of figure demanded by the correct fashion of today:

$1.00, $1.50 and up to $10

EXPOSITION BONDS SELL RAPIDLY

People of Seattle Subscribe $350,000 for Bonds of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. Thus Settling the Matter of Widening the Scope of the Great Pacific World's Fair.

SEATTLE, Nov. 24.—One day in the fall of 1906 the people of Seattle subscribed $350,000 for stock in the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition. Only half a million had been asked for, but so much interest was shown that the people that they generously over-subscribed. The capital stock was accordingly raised to $650,000. All this was done after several months of agitation. Then came the demand from all the states and many foreign countries for the Pacific. This was done and the capital stock raised to $2,000,000, the balance being subscribed for at once by the people of Seattle and Washington. This sum of money, with the $1,000,000 given by the state legislature and the various county appropriations, made a grand total of nearly $2,000,000. Within the last month, however, the demands of exhibitors for space and the general plan of making much of the work on the grounds and buildings permanent, made it necessary to enlarge the scope of the exposition. In the title of the word "Pacific" in the title of the exposition was like a magic wand, for the countries across the Pacific as well as many European countries accepted the invitation to participate. It finally became necessary to have more money. The directors decided upon a bond issue as every other great exposition had done. Three Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollars in bonds at a rate of interest close to eight percent were ordered sold. The local banks offered to take the entire issue, but the directors wished the people to have the advantage of the bonds. Two weeks' advertising brought characteristically Seattle results. The bonds were sold in lots of from $100 to $11,000 to a total of $1,000,000 to private individuals and firms. The banks took the balance and resold them to subscribers who were late in making their offers. Nearly 500 individuals now hold these bonds. This, perchance, will show that Seattle means business in backing the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition and is determined that it shall be a huge success as far as money can make it. And it is now felt that with the financial aid settled there is no doubt about its success, for the vast number of inquiries from distant points indicates a far reaching interest.

SADDLE ROCK CAFE

Work on the exposition buildings and grounds is going forward rapidly. Within the next thirty days work will start upon the last of the building groups, including the five government buildings, the Women's Bazaar, Missouri, Spokane, Kluk county, Machinery annex and other buildings. Plans are being considered for several annex buildings to take care of the scores of applicants for space. A dozen concessionaires have started work. The laying of asphalt on the eleven miles of roads and walks has started. The great central Court of Honor is finished. Exhibits are arriving and are being stored in the buildings now to open a month earlier than the set schedule. In fact were the exposition held in June it would be ready and complete in every detail.

The Case of Alexander Lathan.

The case of Alexander Lathan illuminates the methods pursued by the graft prosecution and the results inevitably flowing therefrom. Lathan was formerly a chauffeur for Abe Ruef and fled the city, or was induced to go away, when the graft crusade was inaugurated. He was finally located in Denver and induced by the persuasion or threats of William J. Burns to return. He made certain statements in an affidavit and subsequently in his testimony before the Grand Jury which the prosecution deems vital in the trolley cases.

After staying for awhile in San Francisco, Lathan quietly slipped away, without giving Burns or Langdon notice of his intention to depart, and after a time was discovered in Seattle engaged in his occupation as a chauffeur. His excuse for running away was that Burns compelled him to report every morning at his office and spend considerable time there each day. This, he said, prevented him from earning a livelihood for himself and wife.

Lathan was extradited from Washington on a charge of accepting a bribe as a witness. It has not been disclosed who gave or offered him a bribe, what the nature of the bribe was, or the time and place of its giving. When Lathan reached San Francisco with the officers he was rushed to Judge Lawlor's court and placed on the stand as a witness against Ruef, James L. Gallagher being withdrawn from cross-examination that Lathan might testify at once, the preliminary hearing before Police Judge Cabannis on the charge of accepting a bribe being postponed till after Lathan's examination as a witness in the Ruef case.

All this may or may not be suggestive. It is evident that Lathan was brought here as a defendant on a criminal charge and compelled to testify as a witness with that charge hanging over him.

Lathan abjured the statements made in his affidavit and the testimony given by him before the Grand Jury. He said he had no recollection of the events and circumstances set forth in the affidavit; the said circumstances and events being suggested to him by William J. Burns and Abe Ruef. At that time Ruef was a contract witness, having William J. Biggy, now chief of police of San Francisco, for landlord and jailor in the private prison maintained for months as a means of holding Ruef in isolated custody. Ruef was then in accord with the prosecution, and wanted Lathan to corroborate him as to matters tending to incriminate third parties. Lathan makes it clear that at the time he made the affidavit and testified before the Grand Jury he was actuated by fear of the vengeance of the prosecution and a desire to serve Ruef, who had been a kind and generous employer.

By denying that he has now or ever has had any remembrance of the incriminating circumstances related in his affidavit, Lathan admits the commission of perjury, but in the same breath he charges Burns and Ruef with counseling and urging him to commit perjury. He alleges that Burns suggested the testimony he should give, and that Ruef urged him to "recollect" what Burns suggested and stated to be the facts.

It ought to be evident to every sound and discriminating mind that a person who can be induced by compulsion or persuasion, or by corrupt reward, to make a false oath to the injury or advantage of another is not a trustworthy witness. It is impossible to tell when such a person does tell the truth. False in one false in all is a maxim handed down from old Roman law. True in one true in all is the obverse truth of this observation. How is a person like Lathan to be believed as against one person and disbelieved as against another? In this case Lathan testified that his former evidence given at the instance of Ruef and in support of statements made by that worthy as a basis for his immunity contract, was false. Having made two absolutely contradictory statements it is a demonstrated fact that he has sworn falsely one way or the other.

But let us suppose, for instance, that the charge of accepting a bribe was dismissed, and that Lathan makes another confession under promise of immunity; would he be any worthier of belief? Would any conscientious juror be justified in taking his testimony against men with life, liberty or property at stake?

This question goes to the heart of this whole business of procuring testimony by threats of prosecution coupled with promises of immunity. There is no division in the minds of honest men of the necessity of rigorously prosecuting and severely punishing officials who solicit or extort bribes and men who pay or offer bribes to procure malfeasance in office, but justice and morality demand that the prosecutions shall be impartial in character and purpose and conducted in a spirit of justice against all evil doers. All justice is based upon the ascertainment of truth. Passing judgment and apportioning penalties is easy and simple after the facts have been definitely ascertained, but getting at the truth is the supreme problem that is the chief obstacle to the administration of justice in all cases such as those presented in San Francisco. The truth is not developed by frightening, or cajoling, or inducing by reward, a person to swear to what he does not remember or what he knows to be false.

The thief and bribe-taker will lie as naturally as he will commit the other infamies. As a rule, he will betray anybody and swear falsely against his best friend to save his own skin. There is no more abject and cowardly scoundrel on earth than the detected thief caught with the spoil on him, and offered his liberty and the retention of his plunder as the price of swearing somebody else into prison. To be offered the alternative of committing perjury or being stripped, dishonored and jailed is a terrible temptation for an ordinarily honest man of reasonably sound principles to resist. How strong, then, must be the pressure on knaves in whom soul and courage have been rotted by corruption?

The New Irish Land Bill.

The new land measure for the relief of Ireland brought forward by the Liberal government is a huge proposition, but it is frankly presented as a part of a still larger scheme. It provides for the issuance of $260,000,000 in land scrip, drawing three per cent interest and guaranteed by the government, to provide funds for the purchase of estates which will be subdivided and sold to tenants on long term instalments. The bill contains a provision for the sequestration by forced purchase of the great grazing estates in the west of Ireland, from which the tenantry have been expelled and the farms turned into pasture.

Already $125,000,000 has been devoted to restoring Irish lands to the people who tilled them. This process of renationalizing the farm lands of Ireland was instituted partially as a relief from the evils of absentee landlordism, and the chronic agitation and unrest resulting therefrom, and partially to arrest the depopulation of the country. Considerations of political expediency entered into the land purchase plan. The House of Lords having rejected Home Rule for Ireland, the Conservative government was compelled to do something for the relief of Ireland.

Premier Asquith and Mr. Birrell, the Secretary for Ireland, say the land purchase act has worked wonders in Ireland, and they urge a continuance and extension of the policy it embodies. To complete the process it has begun will require a total expenditure of $900,000,000, of which a considerable proportion will be dead loss to the imperial exchequer. But as Ireland has been unjustly overtaxed, as well as rack-rented for generations, the investment will be only a partial return of money extorted by unjust taxation.

The policy recommended by the Liberal ministry promises many beneficial results. Peasant proprietorship throughout the island will allay popular discontent, arrest the expatriation of the Irish race, restore prosperity to impoverished districts and still the resentments provoked by centuries of bad government and a vicious land system. It brings within the horizon of hope a prosperous and contented Ireland, freed from chains which have galled and conditions which have degraded and impoverished a proud people.

Hitting the Farmer on the Tariff.

The steel trust, the sugar trust and the tobacco trust are of one mind as to their willingness to throw the beet, cane and tobacco growers, and the producers of raisins and citrus fruits, to the lion of tariff revision. The fearful burdens imposed on the public by the tariff tax on tobacco and cigars, raw sugar, raisins and oranges excite the horror and indignation of Havermyer, Schwab, Spreckels and Duke. These eminent philanthropists are agreed that the farmer should not be permitted to rob and oppress the poor any longer. It is true that the farmer has to sell his wheat, corn, cotton, cattle and hogs in competition with all the world, but a few little things like nuts, raisins, wine, oranges, sugar beets and cane are protected by the tariff. This is an offense to the trust barons who are indignant at the suggestion that the duty on steel rails and structural iron should be lowered. This combined assault on the tariff duties which operate to protect the agricultural industry is plainly a diversion intended to frighten the farmers into standing with the big protected interests that are enabled to sweat enormous profits out of American consumers by a badly and unequally adjusted schedule of tariff duties. The work of prodding the farmers into line is proceeding apace. They are threatened with exposure and punishment as robbers of the poor. Schwab, Spreckels, Duke, Rockefeller, McCormick, Frick, Garv et al. are all pointing the accusing finger at the bloated and dishonest tiller of the soil. Huh! that's one way of giving the agricultural sons of guns tariff revision.

The speech of Lord Roberts urging the adoption of a better system of national defense in England seems to have started another "Battle of Dorking" scare in the tight little isle. By merely pointing out the ease with which a German army of 200,000 men could be thrown into England inside of a week he has startled John Bull out of his wonted self-satisfied calm. This is not at all strange, for the British public has been nervous ever since the Boer War. The developments of the war between Russia and Japan have not served to restore to the English their complacent feeling of security and superiority. The Kaiser's navy and the development of the German merchant marine, together with the keen trade competition instituted by her Teutonic neighbor, have given the British nation a sour stomach. Lord Roberts has now given his countrymen a spasm of fright.

A man is generally true to his first love—himself.
A spoonful of success is better than a gallon of failure.
There isn't much fun in gambling if you can afford to lose.
The less a man knows about the affairs of women the wiser he is.
Beware of the man who is always boasting of his family tree. It's a chestnut.

A girl is always in love. She's on with the new before the old is on their feet.
How many people do you know—including yourself—who can repeat the ten commandments?
A bank employee says a ten dollar bill lasts ten or twelve years. He must be living with his wife's folks.
And the average small boy dislikes to part his hair almost as much as a man dislikes to part with his.
After a man has finally landed a government job he begins to kick because it is not more remunerative.

OAKLAND OFFERS SPLENDID INDUCEMENTS TO SHIPPERS

(From the Newark Register.)

We are led to believe by recent interviews with some of the leading merchants of Oakland that they depend very largely or altogether for their business on their city and nearby suburban population. That the residents of the more distant parts of the county when they go away from their homes to do their trading are believed to buy their railroad tickets through San Francisco, and thus go there to make their purchases. Indeed, to induce people to trade in Oakland rather than in the State metropolis one of the big firms offers to pay the railroad fare of their out-of-town customers.

Now the Register wants to tell the people of Washington Township that Oakland has stores that the people of any county or State can very justly be proud of. And do our readers realize the fact that when they patronize an Oakland store—if they go away from home to do their shopping—that their money is being put into an Oakland enterprise? The business men of Oakland are a very enterprising and progressive class of men, as their stores and magnificent stocks indicate in no uncertain terms. And they can and do sell their goods at as low prices as the San Francisco concerns. Another thing that our rural readers should not overlook, too, is that when they are in Oakland they can have a choice of the most delightful and perfect eating places in which to dine to be found anywhere. And then the more favorable climatic conditions and the more orderly thoroughfares of Oakland are also to be considered in deciding where to shop. The Register believes that Alameda county residents have not been very fully impressed with these facts in the past, but when they are made to realize them and to consider their importance to them they will be more loyal in the future to their county business enterprises and institutions.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR

A woman has so much fun getting her fortune told as a man has making his.

The reason a man is proud of himself for running for office is he would be ashamed of any of his friends for doing it.

The thing that makes a man mad over being swindled in a horse trade is he was trying to do it to the other fellow.

Once and a while a man astonishes himself as much as he does the rest of us by really doing something unselfish.

City Council Passes Resolutions of Sympathy

President Ellsworth, Councilmen Burns and Mullins, constituting a special committee last night, filed with the Council resolutions of sympathy for Mayor Mott and other members of the family because of their late bereavement. The resolutions which are in full as follows, were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, The hand of Death has removed from our midst Mrs. Fannie K. Mott, a most estimable lady, one of the pioneer women of Oakland, and mother of the chief executive of this city, and this Council express its sympathy with the mayor and the other members of the family in their bereavement; and

Resolved, That this Council tender to the mayor and the other members of the family its sincere sympathy in their bereavement, and by it further spread in full in the minutes of the Council, transmitted by the clerk to the mayor.

ELECTED HEAD OF HISTORICAL CLUB

Benjamin Ide Wheeler Succeeds Jas. D. Phelan as President of Society.

BERKELEY, Nov. 24.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler of the State University was elected president of the Pacific Coast branch of the American Historical Association which concluded its fifth annual session with a banquet at the city club Saturday night. President Wheeler succeeds James D. Phelan of the University of California. The new council is composed of D. D. Adams, Mrs. Mary Sprague, C. E. Crothers and H. W. Edwards. The next session will probably be held in the northwest. The delegates selected Professor Henry Morse Stephens, head of the department of history at the State University, as delegate to the coming annual convention of the American Historical Association at Richmond, Vir., the first week in January. Professor Stephens will leave for the meeting next Thursday, stopping at Chicago and other points en route to deliver address.

HORSE RIDES IN AUTOMOBILE AND KILLS YOUNG BOY

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—A horse riding in an automobile today resulted in the death of eight-year-old Elizabeth Curley. After a collision with a grocery wagon, the horse drawing the vehicle reared and placed its forelegs in the machine and was thus dragged until the car crashed into a glass window of a store. Oaking in the child was struck by the machine and pinned against the wall, sustaining injuries from which she died after being hurried to a hospital.

Nellie Waldron For the First Time Tells Her Story of the Killing of Her Sweetheart, Edward McDonald; Relates All the Facts in the Case

HER PATHETIC TALE OF MISERY AND SUFFERING

NEW YORK, Nov. 24. — Held on a charge of homicide and attempted suicide in the Raymond street jail is probably the most unhappy girl in all New York—Nellie Waldron.

She is a fair-haired, stately Irish lass who, four years ago, came to this country from County Roscommon. She has wonderfully honest gray eyes, deep, thoughtful and loving. Her mouth is small and once had a humorous curl at the corners. Now it is drawn.

Physiognomists say that the mouth tells what you are, the eyes what you might have been.

When this frank and pretty girl left her parents in Ireland, surcharged with good temper, ambition and hope, she must have been all that was wholesome. Her eyes tell that.

Now she has lost youth, freshness, ideals and desire to live. She is accused of murdering her sweetheart, who by all tokens was a typical New York loafer, a no-good, well and truly devoid of any honorable sentiment.

Girl Is Barely Alive

Since October 15, when the tragedy occurred, Nellie Waldron has endured so much that only a superb constitution, inherited and developed in the bracing climate of western Ireland, has kept her alive.

When Edward McDonald dropped dead with a bullet through his brain in his father's home, No. 115 Greenpoint avenue, Greenpoint, she fainted twice. She then ran, crazed, to the East River and plunged in the icy water. Rescued by Policeman Bowen, she was taken to a hospital first and then to an asylum raving mad. Recovering her senses, she became dangerously ill with pneumonia and now so weak that she can barely stand. Her breath comes in short gasps, her cheeks are yellow pale. By great effort she managed to stand up before Judge Higginbotham in the Bedford Avenue Police Court and plead not guilty to the charges. Half carried by detectives, she was led to jail.

"My half-brother, who is married and has two children, and my sisters," she related in the dimness of her cell, "were in America, and they used to write home what a great country it was. I coaxed my mother and father to let me come, and finally they consented. Although I had gone to school a good deal in Ireland, I was not sufficiently educated to do anything but hire out for service.

"My sisters were both happy, working in good families, and they secured me a similar position. I have my recommendations, and the two families I was with have both offered to help me in my trouble.

"Up to a year ago I had never even thought about falling in love. I went out very little, then usually with my sisters.

"A little over a year ago I was fortunate in getting a position as starcher in a laundry. The woman who ran it liked me and offered to board and lodge me for $2 a week.

"It seemed that fortune was certainly favoring me. I did piecework, and by putting in twelve or thirteen hours a day could make as much as $11 a week. What was over I intended to save and send to the old country.

She Meets McDonald

"One night in August last year I went to a picnic at Catic Park and there met McDonald. Somehow I liked him. I don't know how it was. He didn't dance very well, but he had a way of attracting you.

"We started going together and all our friends supposed that we were engaged. He used to wait for me at the laundry of nights. He had no job, and never worked. So I pitied him and gave him always half my wages. When he insisted on having more I gave in, though I couldn't buy a hat or new dress like I wanted to. The other girls could dress better and I was afraid that he would like them for that. I loved him a great deal.

"The girl's cheeks reddened and tears came to her eyes.

"Then I became ill and suffered terribly and could not go to work for a couple of days. That week, though, he came for his money as usual, and I gave him all. He liked good clothes, and he had to have lots of cigarettes.

"Upon my word, I can't understand why I was so good to him. His own father told me that Ed was worthless and would bring disgrace to the family some time. The sisters told me that he would beat them in the morning before he went out to join the gang that he traveled with.

"He was handsome, was Ed, well built and powerful."

"Last October my condition was such that I insisted upon us being married immediately. I got ugly then and called me horrible names. He tried to shove me off several of his friends who were decent enough to tell me about it.

"On the Saturday night before the accident, Ed came to the laundry, got $6 and made an arrangement to meet me next day at Catic Park. When I reached there he was dancing

LOOK, GIRLS!

Actress Has 22 Pair Stockings of all Colors for Auction

NEW YORK.—Nightmares of pink and blue silk and lace, with bows and rosettes of baby ribbon to match, corset covers of lavender, blue, pink, orange, and white silk of all lace, twenty-two pairs of silk stockings in green, blue, white and black, besides other bits of lingerie, lawn, linen, and lace, are to be sold at the fifth avenue auction rooms to satisfy the ungallant creditors of Mrs. Carter.

This is the second sale of personal belongings of the auburn haired actress who grew into fame under the impulsive David Belasco, but whose career has been dimmed since her marriage to a man two-thirds her age. Belasco to sever relations with her. The first sale of household furniture, automobiles, etc., took place several months ago.

Silk the Leading Material

In the second offering there are suits of silken underwear so sheer and fine that they can be crumpled into a handful the size of a golf ball.

There are two petticoats of silk and lace, nightgowns, morning gowns, lounging robes, matinee—In fact, every article of wearing apparel necessary to the comfort of a woman of extreme luxury are listed.

There are a score of dresses, including the polka dot foulard Mrs. Carter was wearing one July afternoon in 1906 when the whim seized her to marry William H. Payne at Portsmouth, N. H. Mrs. Carter, her son, and Payne were on an auto trip through New England at the time, and Mrs. Carter did not bother to change her gown when the nuptial idea took possession of her.

Shoes to go With Stockings

There are a pair of shoes and slippers for every pair of stockings. One pair of black patent leather with white uppers is eighteen inches high, fastening with black buttons as big as dimes. Gold heels, red heels, and undressed uppers in assorted colors of leather are among the shoes to be auctioned.

Mrs. Carter is rather slender and that fact may account for the blue silk hip pads which are among her possessions.

It is explained that it was not fear of catching cold that led Mrs. Carter to own night caps. It was to preserve her coiffure into a second or third day, true enough, but no sordid motives of economy actuated the actress—she simply wanted to avoid trouble.

Vests, belts, shirtwaists, mink furs, remnants of silk, satin, and lace, gilt braid, gumpes, lace yokes, feather fans, a lot of chiffon, ermine skin, and several pounds of jewelry are in the 100 odd lots that the auctioneer will hold up to a roomful of bidders.

$6.00 Ample to WEEKLY Feed 4

Woman Asserts

ATLANTIC CITY.—Declarations of Miss Grace W. Pitman, household economic expert of Passaic, N. J., that $6 a week is ample to feed a family of four, stirred delegates to the eighth annual convention of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers to open dissent.

"Impossible," exclaimed Mrs. Edward Marshall of Perth Amboy.

"It cannot be done, except upon a starvation basis," objected Mrs. Margaret Edwards of Princeton.

Miss Pitman was speaking of what might be accomplished with a salary of $1500, which she termed a "nest income."

Thoughts From a Business Girl

A coat of arms doesn't always hide the family skeleton.

It isn't a secret if a woman hesitates in the telling of it.

You can't flatter an honest man by telling him that he is honest.

Conventions of the age include improved wigs and better false teeth.

It takes an optimist to get more good out of a thing than there is in it.

It's hard to work, but it's harder to be unable to get work when you want it.

California Girl Unsurpassed

TALL AND SELF-POISED SAYS CHARLES DANA GIBSON

SAN FRANCISCO. — "California women are tall, straight and have the bloom of health in their faces. I have only been in California a short time, but I have had time to convince me of that," said Charles Dana Gibson, the artist, yesterday afternoon.

Gibson left last night on the Oregon Express for Portland, and most of yesterday he spent in sightseeing. Sunday night he was entertained by Senator Francis Newlands.

"You know the idea of my talking about American women being beautiful is rather tame," he continued; "but the subject of California women is something new for me. Of course

I have seen lots of them in New York and Europe, but for self-poise, healthy complexion and good taste in dress I do not think the California girl can be surpassed."

"Englishwomen and Englishmen have not the dash or style that Americans have. The well-groomed Englishman, who is supposed to have just stepped out of a bath, is a thing of the past. The average young college fellow or professional man in our big cities has better clothes, is more polished and makes the best study from an artist's standpoint.

"The short time I have been at the Fairmont I have seen many beautiful women; I have seen them on the streets—they are everywhere. I am coming back once a year from now on and can get lots of material for sketches from the California women in their outdoor life."

Wedding Bells Ring After Acquittal on Murder Charge Is Brought

CHICAGO, Nov. 24.—After seven hours of deliberation the jury in the case of Joseph and Michael Marcinak, 23 and 25 years old respectively, brothers, charged with murder, returned a verdict of not guilty. When the verdict was read a cheer was made in the courtroom by Miss Nellie Lennon, 19 years old, sweetheart of Michael Marcinak, who has steadily attended the trial. They were united in marriage after the trial. Attorney Benjamin Thomas, who defended the young men, was best man at the nuptial proceedings. As Clerk Hugh Richardson read the verdict freeing her lover Miss Lennon jumped from her seat. Miss Marcinak several times, and then threw her arms about Attorney Thomas. Kissing him, she gleefully exclaimed:

"Well, now, Michael and I want to be married, and you must be the best man."

She kissed her fiance several times and then embraced Thomas.

"Michael and I have been planning to get married for some time," said Miss Lennon, "but, of course, we wanted this thing over. I knew he would be acquitted. Michael and his brother were brave to act as they did. We are going to invite the Judge and Assistant State's Attorney Day to this wedding, too."

By a WOMAN HATER

Most women are credulous enough to believe in their husbands.

When widows rush in it's time for young girls to look out.

Every spinster insists that she is one because she wants to be.

A woman can fire a line of talk straighter than she can hurl a stone. If a man has a wife he always knows what to do with his money.

Some women abuse their husbands as a means of asserting their independence.

Secrets a woman can't tell worry her as much as the money she can't spend.

An old bachelor says an engaged man is as good as married, and a divorced man is better.

As soon as a girl gets old enough to know better she quits wearing pins along her waist line.

When a woman has on a pretty pair of stockings she is terribly afraid of getting the bottom of her skirt soiled. Between being laid up and blown up, the average married woman has a strenuous time of it.

Our idea of a beautiful woman is one who looks attractive with her hair done up in kid curls—and she is scarce.

Ethel Barrymore Wins You in "The Lady Frederick"

—SAYS NELL BRINKLEY IN THE N. Y. JOURNAL

At the left, Bruce McRae and Ethel Barrymore in the scene in which she "comes into his arms." In the next picture, Ethel Barrymore, showing how she powders and wears false hair. In the center, Ethel Barrymore as Lady Frederick; and then some of her frocks "like no other Ladyfrocks!"—Sketches by Nell Brinkley, in the N. Y. Journal.

The play "Lady Frederick" is a sort of a fool play; not any better and not any worse than all those that we've seen so many of—that ordinary tasteless little tale of English high life, a Lord and a Lady, a Dowager, a booted Coldstream or two, the smoke of scandal, and a little love tale that litters along, hand in hand, on the side, writes Nell Brinkley in the New York Journal.

It's amusing. It has neither broad nor delicate humor. It amuses, and you sit very lazily through it—and if it didn't have the soft voice, and the smooth art, and the refined, holding personality of Ethel Barrymore, and the dexterous cleverness of the stage folk around her, to live it out—you'd yawn, I bet.

The play's best bits are its rare sentimental phrases and epigrams, and Ethel Barrymore's voice breaking caressingly through them touch the quick where tears wait, and they shake and glimmer in your eyes till the stage dances.

Funny how her voice is always a surprise! You never get quite used to it, no matter how many times you have heard it. It always startles and wins you all over again.

And her frocks are never like any other Ladyfrocks!

Sends Word to President F. Search of Chamber of Commerce He Can't Come.

The Chamber of Commerce sent an invitation to President-elect William Howard Taft to spend the winter in California. This letter was sent by reason of the receipt of a letter from Taft by a friend in this city stating that he might possibly be in California previous to his inauguration. Today President Taft of the Chamber of Commerce received the following letter:

Hot Springs, Va., November 13, 1908.
My Dear Sir: On behalf of Mr. Taft I beg to acknowledge receipt of your favor of the 12th of November, inviting him to visit Oakland and Alameda counties and in reply wish to say that he had completed arrangements to spend the winter in Augusta, Georgia, and cannot, therefore, accept your cordial invitation, for which he directs me to thank you. Very sincerely yours,

"THE HONEYMOONERS" OPENS AT MACDONOUGH

ANNA WHEATON
In George M. Cohan's "The Honeymooners" at the Macdonough.

"The Honeymooners" played an opening engagement at the Macdonough Theater last night, and are to be here for the remainder of the week, with matinees on Thanksgiving Day and Saturday afternoon.

Few musical comedies are billed for such a lengthy stay in Oakland, possibly because the taste for this sort of amusement is largely an acquired one, and the people of this community are notably conservative. But the fact that George M. Cohan is the author of "The Honeymooners" was sufficient of itself to fill the front rows with men, not all of them blushing, either. For a musical comedy presupposes pretty girls a-plenty. Given these, beautifully groomed, the average male patron of the theater is disposed to pronounce the verdict, "Good show, that!" regardless of ethics.

Catchy Songs

To be sure, catchy songs and an occasional voice among the performers are appreciated by an audience, but all these are as naught compared to pretty girls. "The Honeymooners," so its author states, is a revised edition of "Rumors for Office." The rival candidates for mayor incline to love-making just as strongly as to affairs politic, and innumerable ludicrous situations—pretexts for introducing songs and dances—are the result. Some very unusual lighting effects are shown, and a portion of the last act

FIGHTER STILL UNCONSCIOUS FROM BLOW

Boston Heavyweight Has Not "Come to" Since Being Hit by Michigan Giant.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—Fred Bradley, the Boston heavyweight pugilist, who was seriously injured in a savage bout at the West End Athletic Club here last night with Al Kiblak, known as the "Michigan Giant," is still in a critical condition. He is suffering from concussion of the brain and a possible fracture of the skull. All the principals in the affair were arraigned today. Kiblak was committed to the county prison without bail to await the outcome of Bradley's injuries, and the others were held in $500 bonds.

CAUGHT OLD OFFENDER GETTING HIS LOOT

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—Detectives Regan and O'Connell, after searching for some time, last night succeeded in arresting Paul Rubman on Third street near Howard, on suspicion of having committed numerous crimes in the southern district for several months past. Rubman has been doing the officers in the course of plying his trade and it was only by changing the hour of making their rounds that they caught him yesterday. He has made a business of stealing the tubes valued at $15 each and disposing of them at $2, and when he was arrested he had on his person a lady's gold watch, a small Jimmy and a guitar. He is in detention at the city prison.

SPIRIT ACCUSERS TOO MUCH FOR THIS WIFE

(Special to The Tribune.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24.—In bringing a suit for divorce against her husband, Peter Mathias, this morning, Emily C. Mathias alleged that he has been extremely cruel to her and on several occasions had struck her on the head. She states further that he told her that spirits had communicated to him she had been receiving attentions from other men and this had made him accuse her further. The couple live at 718 San Bruno road.

OAKLAND STORE Closed all day Thursday (Thanksgiving Day)

Taffeta Silk Petticoats Now $2.95

This is one of the best Thanksgiving specials which we are offering this week and should interest every woman in Oakland. These garments are not the kind that lose their stiffness after one or two wearings, but will always keep the dainty little "fron-frou" until they are in rags. The assortment comprises all the late styles with deep 14-inch ruffles and tucks. They are made very full with an under dust ruffle, and come in rich colors of gray, red, navy, tan, brown, champagne, white, green, black and many other colors. Will match practically every style or shade of costume.

Children's Hats

The advent of King Turkey means not alone good things to eat but also good things to buy, especially in the Millinery Department where everything new in the world of style is incorporated in our productions. This week we have some dandy values in children's hats—a few choice shapes that we have trimmed just as a little Thanksgiving special—dainty hats becomingly trimmed with large bows of ribbon. All of the shades which have been popular this season will be found at $1.75 and $2.75.

Drawn Work Scarfs $1.98

An attractive assortment of drawn-work scarfs and squares specially priced for Thanksgiving selling. This is one of our good things. They have from two to four rows of drawn-work and the finish is of the best quality. Their decorative value must be seen to be appreciated.

Scarfs 13x15 inches; squares 30x30 inches.

75c Flannelette Skirts 50c

It seems hardly possible that the little price tags are telling the truth when you see the values you are getting in these skirts. They are made long and wide in substantial colors of pink, white and blue, or with polka dots and are finished with a deep flounce with a scalloped edge and silk button-hole stitching.

Thanksgiving Silks 75c Messaline Satin 58c Yard

A beautiful collection of messaline satins, wide range of colors—all popular shades, including black and cream which make those beautiful evening gowns and hat drapes and street costumes. 12-in widths at 58c yard.

ills, inflammation, ulceration, and consequent Spinal Weakness.

It has relieved more cases of Backache and Local Weaknesses than any other one remedy. It dissolves and expels tumors in an early stage of development.

Irregularities and periodic pains Weakness of the Stomach, Indigestion, Bloating, Nervous Prostration, Headache, General Debility, quickly yield to it; also deranged organs, causing pain, dragging sensations and backache. Under all circumstances it acts in harmony with the female system.

It removes that weary feeling, extreme lassitude, "don't care" and
"want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, irritability, nervousness,
dizziness, faintness, sleeplessness, flatulency, melancholy or the "blues."
These are indications of Feminine disorders, which this medicine overcomes as well as slight derangement of the Kidneys of either sex.

Women who are sick and want to get well should refuse to accept any substitute for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

TO WEAR CHINESE DRESS
AT CHRISTIAN WEDDING

EDWIN K. A. WONG MISS FRANCES H. HAY,
The Bride elect.

MISS FRANCES H. HAY
As a High School Student

The wedding of Miss Frances Hay, daughter of Rev. Lee Teng Hui, a Methodist minister, and Edwin K. A. Wong will be held Monday evening November 23 in the First Methodist Church. The Rev.
George White, pastor of the church, and the Rev. Dr. James A. McFarland, pastor of the Chinese Methodist Mission will officiate.

The bride elect will be attended by her sister, Miss Ida Lee, as maid of honor. Miss Mary Wong, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Rose (Lum) will act as bridesmaids. Miss Tenny Lee will cross the path of the bridal party with roses. Andrew Lee will carry the wedding ring. The bridegroom will be attended by his brother, Loy Duck Wong, who will act as best man.

Red Silk Gown

The gown worn by the petite young bride will be a combination of red silk trimmed with gold sequins. She will wear a crown of pearl beads.

Pretty Miss Hay is a native daughter and was the first Chinese girl to receive a gold medal from the Denver grammar school of San Francisco. She was also a student at the Girls High school prior to the earthquake.

Idun Wong is a native son and is engaged in business in San Francisco.

In Two Languages

The ceremony which will be read both in Chinese and English tongues will be unique. Though the Oriental customs will be omitted, the affair will favor of the mannerisms of the latter. The attention upon the bride will wear Oriental costumes.
Those who attend the bridegroom will don American clothes.

After the ceremony the guests will assemble in the Mizpah room of the church where an elaborate reception banquet will be served. Three hundred friends and relatives of the couple have been invited to the wedding.

The Chinese couple were brought together by Mrs. Lee, an official matchmaker of the Chinese people.
They were introduced by her and they found that they thought they could be happy together.

They will make their home in San Francisco where a home has been purchased for them as the gift of the bride's parents.

NERVOUS
DYSPEPSIA

A Chicago Woman Tells How the Tonic Treatment With Dr. Williams' Pink Pills
Cured Her.

The processes of digestion are controlled by the blood and nerves. It is why the tonic treatment by which the blood is built up has cured so many cases of stubborn stomach trouble.

Many people are suffering daily from stomach trouble because they cling to old-fashioned methods, eat pigmented foods and in other ways aggravate the disorder they seek to cure.
But prejudice must give way before proof, such as this statement by Miss S. A. McFarland of 6028 South Green street, Chicago, Ill., who says:

"I suffered for four years with indigestion which I think was brought on by overwork and nervousness. My stomach was in such bad shape that as soon as I ate anything I would be distressed, have pain and my stomach would become sour. No kind of food seemed to agree with me."

"I went to a specialist for several months, but he did not help me, so I tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They helped me and I took them steadily for quite a while. My indigestion gradually disappeared until in time I was able to eat almost any kind of food with ease and strength and have not been troubled with nervousness since."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are guaranteed to be pure and harmless to the most delicate constitution. They contain no morphine, opiate, narcotic, nor anything to cause a drug habit. They do not act on the bowels, but they actually make new blood and strengthen the nerves. If you want good health, you must have good blood. Bad blood is the root of all common diseases, like anemia, rheumatism, neuralgia, neuritis, St. Vitus dance, nervous debility, indigestion, general weakness, paralysis, locomotor ataxia, and the special ailments that only womenfolk know.

A helpful booklet, "What to Eat and How to Eat," containing information regarding diet, free of charge, Every dyspeptic should have a copy of our free diet book. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists or by mail, postpaid at 60 cents per box, six boxes $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y.

OFFICIALS GET
SALARIES RAISED

Senate Amendment No. 14
Comes as Thanksgiving
Turkey to Officers.

Senate amendment 14, increasing the salaries of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Secretary of State, Controller, Treasurer, Surveyor General and Attorney General has carried by a majority of about 800. It is the first Thanksgiving turkey for the seven State officials holding these places, as their salaries run from the time of the adoption of the amendment.

While the official returns of the results have not yet been received by the Secretary of State, unofficial reports from the counties give a promise that the amendment has been adopted by not more than 200 majority. This may possibly be decreased to 100.

Secretary of State Curry says there is no doubt the amendment has been approved, but he admits it is a close question.

The new salaries are as follows:
Governor $10,000 from $8,000
Lieutenant Governor $6,000 from $5,000
Secretary of State $5,000 from $3,000
Controller $4,000 from $3,000
Treasurer $4,000 from $3,000
Surveyor General $5,000 from $3,000
Attorney General $6,000 from $3,000

NEW TARIFF IS EFFECTIVE JAN. 1

Shippers Are Not in Favor of Freight Rates and Will Ask Changes.

On January 1, 1909, the new overland freight tariff, both east and west bound, goes into effect. A few weeks ago it was completed and formally filed with the Interstate Commerce commission. There is some dissatisfaction on the part of shippers on this coast over the proposed advance in many of the rates. On this account the freight traffic bureau of the Merchants Association is arranging to get statements of grievances from each line of business affected by the new tariff.

What will eventually be done with these statements is not yet fully decided upon. Attorney Seth Mann of the bureau said yesterday that the statements of these merchants and traders making objections to the new rates will probably be presented to the railroad bureau of the Merchants Association with a request that they make reductions. If this were not done the merchants would then be in a position to file complaints with the Interstate Commerce commission.

It was too early to say what if any complaints might be filed with the commission, but it is not precluded from this, complaints and making changes in the rates, concluded Attorney Mann.

The so-called Southwestern roads not long ago increased their freight rates and the affected merchants immediately complained to the commission. The latter has heard evidence at St. Louis in the matter, but has not yet made a decision.

MUTINY IS SERIOUS

PEKIN, Nov. 24.—The situation at Nanking, where a mutiny on the part of the Chinese troops broke out on November 18, is serious. There has been fighting in the streets of the city and a portion of the foreign residents have taken refuge on board a British gunboat. Others of the foreigners elected to remain on shore.

ANNOUNCEMENT

WHERE DANCING
IS A PLEASURE

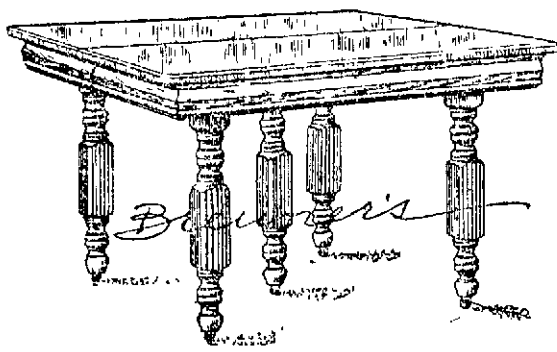

The Oakland Dancing Pavilion Offers the Best Facilities Possible for This Division, and Insists on Strictest Etiquette.

The remarkable popularity attained by the healthful and pleasurable exercise of dancing during the past few years has resulted in the establishment of popular dancing pavilions. Perhaps the most successful of these popular amusement places is the OAKLAND DANCING PAVILION, the spacious and splendidly maintained building formerly known as the Lakeside Skating Rink on Twelfth street, near Webster. It may truly be said that the OAKLAND DANCING PAVILION sets the highest type of example for this form of amusement. The floor is without exception the largest and best in California. The discipline maintained by the management is absolutely perfect. The refreshment parlors are absolutely devoid of all such objectionable features as private boxes and not a drop of liquor is ever allowed on the premises. The management adheres strictly to the rule that no person under 18 years of age shall at any time be admitted to the floor except they come in charge of their parents or guardians.

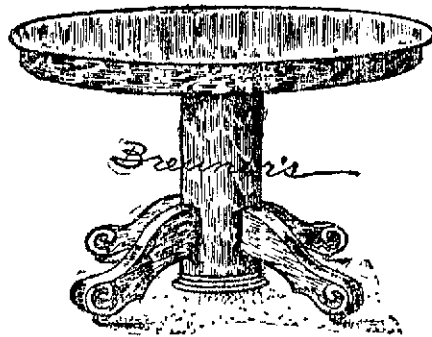

F. A. MAESTRUPPI, the local manager of the OAKLAND DANCING PAVILION, gives every minute of his time toward seeing that this popular dancing place is maintained in such a manner as to convince every body that proper etiquette is strictly observed and that every visitor is assured as nearly as possible the same courteous treatment and is under the same influences as they would be in their own homes. The Pavilion is one of several similar places maintained in different coast cities by the same general management, and wherever they are located, they have always been conducted in such a manner as to win the confidence and approval of the entire public.

OAKLAND WOMAN TRIUMPHS
IN "SHAUN RHUE" IN S. F.

MRS. GRACE TRAVERS,
Who Is Appearing in "Shaun Rhue" Across the Bay.

The most successful performance which has thus far been given at the Valencia theater in San Francisco is that of "Shaun Rhue," one of the pieces which the celebrated Joe Murphy, for many years the leading Irish comedian in the country, produced all over the United States. In this piece he played the role and afforded pleasure and satisfaction to hundreds of thousands of people in every State in the Union.

Murphy's Successor

Murphy has practically retired from the stage and has found, in Arthur Cunningham, a protégé upon whom he is anxious that his mantle should descend. Cunningham is now appearing at the Valencia theater in the role made famous by his patron and is appearing in it to the satisfaction of the large audiences which are greeting every performance. The company is an excellent one.

Grace Travers Appears

There is a feature of local interest in the production of this play because, in the company is Grace Travers, the wife of Dr. Henry Travers of this city, who essays the leading role, that of Kate Donovan. Scarcely second to that which is accorded to the star, is the appreciation with which this woman has been received in the performances thus far given. She was not long on the stage at the initial performance of the play when she readily found favor with the audience. Her fine stage presence at first captivated the people of both sexes and then her finely modulated voice, with a delicate touch of the burlesque which is required by the character, showed that she possessed all the essentials to give a perfect portrayal of the role.

Rounds of Applause

From the triumph which she early achieved, there followed a series of bursts of applause and these were succeeded by curtain calls after almost every act. The success of Mrs. Travers is a source of pleasure to her many friends on both sides of the bay and this is all the more so for the reason that this was the first time that she appeared on the footlights as a professional actress.

"Shaun Rhue" will be played at the Valencia Theater every night this week and there is sure to be an audience on which will tax to the utmost the accommodations of the large place of amusement.

AUCTIONEER DROPS DEAD.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—"Going, going, gone!" Really had the last word left his mouth when Lewis Levy, a picturesque auctioneer of unredempted pawned goods on Park Row, dropped dead on his block yesterday. He had just accepted a bid of $18 for a split-second watch and, curiously enough, 63 was his own age.

GANO CHITTENDEN'S
FUNERAL IS HELD

Body of University Student,
Who Lost His Life in Estuary Is Cremated.

The funeral of Gano W. Chittenden, the University student who was drowned recently in the estuary, was held this afternoon from Finney's undertaking parlors. The Rev. C. R. Brown, a personal friend as well as the pastor of the dead youth, conducted the services and spoke a few words of tribute concerning young Chittenden.

A delegation of his classmates, headed by Allen Clark, son of Professor Clark, attended the services. The body was cremated.

ENTER 1200 POULTRY
SPECIMENS FOR SHOW

The Alameda County Poultry Association has certainly made good their assertion that their forthcoming exhibition, which will be held at Idora Park, Oakland, December 1 to December 6, would be "California's greatest poultry show."

The entries closed the 21st and amount to over 1200 specimens, this being the largest number ever exhibited in California.

Exhibitors are from as far north as British Columbia and as far south as the south. A novelty will be displayed in the form of several varieties of Chinese and English pheasants. These birds will be especially cooped and no doubt will be very attractive to the lady patrons of the show.

WARNING

TO HOUSEKEEPERS NOW BUYING COAL

Unfortunately certain unscrupulous dealers are now selling coal under the name of American Block Coal, or A. B. C. Coal which is NOT THE GENUINE ARTICLE.

If you think you are getting American Block and find that it is hard, has light streaks of rock in it, leaves kilnclinkers, does not burn readily, gives out but little heat or makes any soot at all, you are being deceived.

Genuine American Block Coal is easy to tell. It is bright, glossy and burns readily. It gives out tremendous heat and leaves no kilnclinkers, but very little ash and no soot. It is easy to light and requires no special treatment.

It can be procured of many dealers or direct of us.

We would regret having to make the above exposure if we did not realize it will strengthen the position of the honest dealer.

Our advice is to continue trading with your dealer if you have confidence in him, but if in doubt bring a sample of your coal to us for analysis.

Shuffling
Opticians

When you want the best far-and-near glass made, demand a Kryptok.

It is made without the cement, without the pieces pasted on, and without the prominent surface seams which characterize the old-style bifocal.

This is the glass we have been pushing for five years, and is now sold by reputable opticians all over the world.

A written certificate goes with every pair, and the frank optician will be prompt to give it to you. The man who is trying to dupe you with an imitation will shuffle and I try to avoid giving you the guarantee. Don't take the glasses unless you get it.
